Title: It's checkout time for the homeless at this hotel. But where will they go?

Publication Date: September 28, 2017

Summary: Rachel Clemente received a call from a stranger, Imani Mitchell, from a new group called Black Women United. Mitchell was attending a paralegal class close by at American River College and promised to come when she got out. At about 9 p.m, Clemente said Mitchell came and paid for two more nights for the family at the Courtyard.

Title: Out Of The Closet, Onto the Street: Foster System a 'Pathway to Homelessness' For LGBT Youth

Publication Date: October 2, 2017

Summary: Scott Dukes says he'll never forget the day he met his adoptive daughter Erica. She wore a black-and-white striped jacket with a big yellow flower on the lapel and a pair of bright pink pants. She was 14, in need of a foster home and just starting to transition from male to female.

Now 19, Erica Dukes just started her first semester studying cosmetology at American River College. Thanks to Scott, her future is looking pretty good right now. The same can't be said for most LGBT foster youth.

Title: Catching on: Jabbari Johnson makes immediate impact for Montana State

Publication Date: September 28, 2017

Summary: Jabbari Johnson holds up his prodigious hands — the wide palms, the long fingers — and it becomes abundantly clear what makes him such a threat in Montana State's passing game.

Since he arrived on campus this summer as a transfer wide receiver from American River College in California, MSU's coaches have raved about the strength of Johnson hands. He showed glimpses of it during fall camp by making a slew of impressive one-handed catches.

Title: Bulldogs denied by American River

Publication Date: October 2, 2017

Summary: Three weeks after College of San Mateo football escaped with a 1-point win when Sierra College botched a snap on would-be game-ending field goal, the Bulldogs got bit by a similar mishap. This time, it was No. 2-ranked CSM (4-1 overall) that came out on the short end as the Bulldogs' point-after try was blocked with one minute remaining in regulation, allowing No. 6 American River College (4-1) to avoid overtime and celebrate a 21-20 victory Saturday at College Heights Stadium.
